

Orewatery. Redhill

1858 July 15

My dear Sir

I forget the date
of my last letter to you, and whether I have acknowledged the receipt of your volume and some other papers which you kindly sent me.
I send you today by post a pamphlet which I have lately

written to facilitate the invention of the solar eclipse of Sept next. It was my hope that some of our private observers,
more at liberty than myself, might be started up to the expedition, but the distance and expense have deterred them all.

and the only art-masters whom I know of who will take part in the enterprise are Mr. Lissie and Lieut. Sillis of Washington, both of whom have selected
Pena.

I am anxious to hear
whether you have found the observation of the solar spots
in my method

practicable in addition to your other presents, as in the present state of the house I cannot leave home till I know that some fellow labourer is at work whose results
will at least supply
gaps in my series.

With these few lines

I remain

Yours faithfully

R. C. Carrington
