

Observatory. Redbank

1859 June 2

My dear Sir

Will you allow me after the lapse of some months to enquire

how the registration of the positions of Solar spots is progressing at Home according to the plan which you

represented the intention of pursuing. I am still much engaged in business, and have only two days in the week, Sunday and Thursday,

on which when weather permits I can pursue excursions, so that I still anxiously wish of fellow laborers how the centrality of the history of the state is being kept up. It is

would not give you too much trouble I should be very much obliged if you could get one well's results copied on their paper and send me as a specimen.

My friend Mr. Heath
at Durham, who promised to assist me in my difficultly has been much beaten by our favourable weather and an instrument not well suited to the work required.

I send you a copy of the only photograph taken in England of Demetrius' court. I take unpleasant. It was taken by an artist, Mr. Asherwood, in spot, in 7 seconds,
with a lens for portraits,
on or about Sept 27.

Yours faithfully

R. L. Carrington

Prof. Leitch.
