

Royal Observatory, Greenwich,
London, S.E.

1858 September 7

My dear Sir

I returned from my journey, on Sunday; and Mr.
Airy returned yesterday; and my family, though yet incomplete, begins to have more of its ordinary appearance.

I am hoping to see you again at the Observatory; and I hope that when you come you will dine with us. Our usual hour for dinner is

Rd. P. A. Secchi

3^h. 30^m, but we can alter the hour to any time that is more convenient to you.

Will you inform me when you will come?

I am, my dear Sir,

Yours very truly

G. King

[Faint, illegible handwriting]

[Faint, illegible handwriting]

[Faint handwritten mark]

